Switched-On Management Seminar

Designed for those responsible for creating more effective and dynamic organizations, Switched-On Management provides a method for “personal re-engineering” to enable managers to adapt quickly to changing environments. To accomplish this goal, the course uses Brain Gym® technology based on the research of Paul E. Dennison, Ph.D.— a method that employs specific body movement exercises to access untapped capabilities, enabling participants to transform obstacles into easily completed tasks.

The Switched-On Management seminar was created by Dr. Jerry V. Teplitz in conjunction with Edward Wondoloski, C.P.A., Professor of Management at Bentley College.

“The process is simple and amazingly effective with proven instant results.!”
Patricia Scott, Management Consultant

“I had my entire management team, including myself, attend Dr. Jerry V. Teplitz’ Switched-On Management Seminar. That was one of the best training decisions that I have ever made. It’s been three months since we attended the seminar and I can absolutely state that every person on our management team is operating at a more effective level than ever before. We are now functioning as a team in an integrated way resulting in much less stress on everyone. I would highly recommend SOM to any management team who really wants to excel in ways that might have only been dreamed about.”

A-Active Termite and Pest Control

“As a result of “Switched-On Management”, I accomplish more in less time. Almost daily, I apply the quick stress management techniques...I’ve also gained insights into how I relate to those I manage....and how they affect how I feel and behave.”
